BLOOMFIELD HIGH SCHOOL
BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY

There's a high school in New Jersey
Dear old Bloomfield, bless her name;
And we've loved her, yes, we've loved her,
Since the day when first we came.
So, all hail to Alma Mater,
And pledge eternally,
To live and die for Bloomfield High
In love and loyalty.

Second Edition
of
MEMORIES
Published by
BLOOMFIELD HIGH SCHOOL
Class of 1947

We, the graduating class of 1947, have many experiences in store for us as we enter different walks of life. Think back now on all the adventures we've had thus far in our education . . . As a coin leaves its minting place, it would probably feel exactly as we do at this time. It, too, could reflect back upon what it had gone through to become perfected. It could remember when it was just another piece of gold, silver or copper ore.

The first step in our schooling was the elementary grades. This brought out our elements worth developing, our talents were developed as we advanced through the grades, and we found ourselves refined—ready to be molded by our high school education . . . The ores used in making coins, first, must be purified so that they will be worth using. Then these refined metals are prepared to be developed into coins.

As a coin leaves its minting place, it is stamped with a lasting impression . . . Students, likewise, are stamped . . . We are stamped with a mark of distinction that is to remain with us through our entire lives.

IRENE F. BRUMMERSTEDT

For her years of hard work; for her patience and understanding; for her friendly cooperation; we, the senior class of Bloomfield High School, dedicate this issue of Memories to our adviser and friend, Miss Irene F. Brummerstedt.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

Designing is an integral process in manufacturing a coin. Before any dies are cast, draftsmen have carefully calculated the proposed coin.

Those who plan our futures are our draftsmen. Our Guidance Department carefully evaluates our talents and the means to put them to the best advantage. These draftsmen's plans are carried out by the teachers who do the molding of our lives.

MEMORIES

In keeping with the best annuals, this edition of MEMORIES has a theme—the comparison between the minting of a coin and the development of a senior. In addition, as 1947 marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of B. H. S., we have attempted to remind you of this event through cartoons and sketches. Layouts, write-ups, pictures—all have been included to give you a pleasant remembrance of your experiences in B. H. S.

Much credit goes to those who served on the various staffs which produced the annual, as well as to the editors, upon whom fell the responsibility of producing MEMORIES. Miss Brummerstedt, Miss Fischer and Mr. Willever, our advisers, have the heartfelt thanks of the staff for the part they played in guiding the progress of this annual—MEMORIES of 1947.

STUDENT PRINTS

Say, let's stop to look in the Student Prints and see what's happening! Golly, what excitement! Want to listen in? . . . "Say, Jean, what head do you want on that Driver Ed Story?" . . . "Hey, Betts, do you think we could move this story to third page?" . . . "Humph, why did you cut this out of Rumors?" Sounds like a concentrated third degree, all right, but we'll have to agree that Jean Betts, the editor in question, stood up bravely.

Can you remember these headlines from the past three years?

Bengals and Mounties Class Thursday

Each records one of Bloomfield High School traditions written by the students themselves for the students. After all what would our Bloomfield High be without our Student Prints?

THE COINS

SENIORS

There are certain requirements that every coin must meet before it may go on to be developed into the finished product. Its composition must be accurately proportioned; its thickness must be exactly right . . . As a prerequisite to high school education, every student must have a knowledge of certain elementary subjects and must be willing and eager to increase this knowledge.

EXPEDITORS

To you, Mrs. Chamberlain and Mr. Mageehan, we seniors extend our sincere thanks for a job well done. Through your patience, perseverance and cooperation, we reached our goal as seniors.

MR. EDMUND MAGEEHAN

We extend our sincere appreciation to Mr. Mageehan whom we will remember not only as our adviser, but more as our friend. His invaluable aid, personality, sense of humor, his interest in our class—for all these we thank Mr. Mageehan.

MRS. CATHERINE E. CHAMBERLAIN

Although Mrs. Catherine E. Chamberlain has served in her capacity as class adviser for only one year, we feel that she has been a great help in the discussion and solution of the various problems which faced us.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Each lot of coins is given the Trial of Pyx, a fancy name for a spot check. Likewise, the class officers are a spot check on every class.

75th

ANNIVERSARY

75 years ago eleven graduates stepped through the portals of the new Bloomfield High School into the portals of history. This year the graduating class numbers 466, more than forty-four times that of the first class. "The High School is established to provide those scholars who have completed the studies of the Grammar School with an opportunity of pursuing more advanced studies, and obtaining a higher English and Classical education." Thus read the purposes of the original High School of Bloomfield. Contrast this with the motto of our present High School, "Learn To Live".

Last year our school was rated by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as a very superior school in this region. It may be well for us to ask ourselves this question, "Have we now reached the acme of achievement in education?" The answer must be, "By no means!" With our advancing world, we too must advance!

OUR HOUSE"

Directed by Mrs. Wm. H. Williams

"Come Over to Our House" invited the senior class on Friday and Saturday nights, December 13 and 14. The crowd that answered the call was captivated by the trials and tribulations of the Eldridge family. Poor Mrs. Eldridge had to choose between Stephen Reynolds and his two brats, or respectable Philip King, a staid old bachelor. What with grandma's advice and the interference of her three children, it wasn't easy. Meanwhile, Jay was having troubles—he had to decide between the classics and a scholarship, or jive and Hollywood. And, of course, Lindy and Marion were worrying about their own affairs. Tie this up with the explosive Madge; the dish-dropping maid, Carrie; newspaper reporters; boxers; and even a Russian, Sasha Sevinsky.

But oh! Will you ever forget it? Remember Joe Moore, as the staid Mr. King, trying to jitterbug with Lindy? Or panfaced Carrie, who casually broke twenty dishes? Or what about Butch, falling over his feet? Hildred sure bowled them over with her impulses, but Marion!—"He's gone! He's gone forever! And what is there left for me? Death! Die! Oh!"—Poor Marion!

Now you have an idea of why everyone did "Come Over to Our House"!

BEHIND THE SCENES

While everything was running smoothly on stage—aside from broken curtains and falling scenery—the unsung heroes were working backstage to keep it so. The make-up committee prepared the Garsons and Gables to meet the audience. If it weren't for the property committee, grandma wouldn't have had a mystery book. The art committee drew interest with their teen-agers telephoning over the auditorium door. Last, but far from least, the stage crew did its work—managing lights and curtains, following cues, holding up the scenery, and being generally useful. All these committees contributed to the successful production of "Come Over to Our House".

BAND

Diversification was the keynote of the completely reorganized band which performed so well at the football games and at various assemblies. Supplemented by smart new red and grey uniforms, the band was rated as outstanding in the state. Several members were chosen to serve in the renowned All - State Band. Layton Stirrat as drum major led the band in its many unusual formations, such as the giant "B".

Much peppier than they have been in many a season, the band owes its measure of success in no small way to Mr. Raymond Hartman, new to B. H. S. this year.

CHEERLEADERS

Twenty girls as twirlers, attractively attired in white uniforms, presented an unusual and greatly appreciated addition to our football games this year. Precision and smartness marked all their appearances.

TWIRLERS

Supplying color and adding excitement to the football and basketball games has been the job of the cheerleaders. Many new cheers were introduced on the gridiron this fall.

FOOTBALL

Slipping woefully in their gridiron duties this past season, the Bengal machine of 1946 was able to come out on top only twice in nine contests. The squad dropped six decisions and the odd game ended in a 7-7 deadlock. On renewing relations with Phillipsburg High School, the Foleymen were handed a 27-7 defeat by the charges of Frank Klein; however, this was not the worst defeat tasted by the Red and Grey, for they were humbled 58-0 on Thanksgiving Day at Montclair. This humiliating loss broke a scoring record between the two bitter Essex County rivals. Paterson East Side and Irvington were the only two teams to fall prey to B. H. S. during the season.

The East Siders were beaten 19-6 while the Camptowners were upset to the tune of 12-6; Art Daddis tallied on both occasions. Considering everything, it was a tough season for Coach Foley and his assistants to bring the squad through, but brighter moments were presented by the brilliant exhibition of the new B.H.S. band and twirler crew.

TOP ROW—Kessler, Trillhaase, Holman, Slattery, Hildebrant, Healey, Molinski, Wolski

SECOND ROW—Manager Trotter, Nisovacci, Hamilton, Hughes, Lee, Swerdlow, Adelson, Tomasko, Jannerone, Assistant Manager Hayes.

THIRD ROW—Assitant Coach Cella, Costagno, Maples, Selle, West, Daddis, McCool, Pierson, Mustachio, Assistant Coach Berlinski.

COACHES

Faculty Manager of Athletics: Ralph W. Kunkle.

Carrying defeats over from the football season, the Bengal quintet ran into loss after loss during the 1947 season and ended the campaign with the sorrowful record of 6 wins and 11 defeats. From early season practice and predictions it looked as if Coach Foley were going to enjoy one of his better seasons, but after the Red and Grey tumbled Irvington High 50-46, the Foleymen hit bottom. One of the few highlights of the dull season was the resounding beatings the Bengals handed a supposedly good Nutley five, 53-37. Following this ball game, the squad was defeated by the high flying Weequahic Indians, 88-34.

Captain Carl Kopf ended the season as the leading Tiger scorer with a 171 point total. Cos D'Andrea, push shot artist, followed Kopf with 145, and newcomer Bob Lutz, St. Benedict's transferee, tossed through 114.

BASKETBALL

BASEBALL

TOP ROW—Coach Foley, Assistant Coach Bonavita, Assistant Manager Selser, Lawler, Head Manager Losee, Assistant Coach Berlinski.

SECOND ROW—Selle, McCool, Bahto, Datre, Dimmick, Russomano, West.

With Captain Dave "Duffy" Taylor, brilliant second baseman, leading the way it looks as though the Red and Grey may salvage one good season from the year '47. Transferring from Montclair High is Bob Richardson, heavy hitting first baseman, who will give added strength in the vital hitting department. Will Martin and no-hit Joe Dimmick are the top mound prospects, with Jack West behind the plate. George Bahto, fancy fielding Bob Schwind, Alt Dexheimer, Nick Lalinga and a host of other candidates will be around to help bring one good season to B. H. S.

EARLY BIRD LEAGUE

Under the able guidance of Coach Edward Berlinski, the Bloomfield High Early Bird League was in full swing throughout the winter months. Nine teams composed of five to six men participated in the hotly contested games which were played from 7:45 to 8:10 each morning of the week. Play-offs were held with the Beavers emerging victorious. An Early Bird breakfast is held annually after each season.

TRACK

Losing the very valuable services of Art "Scotty" Dad-dis means a lot to the '47 Track Team, but they are ready to carry on without him. Back from last year to help the Red and Grey along will be Mel Anderson, Ed Hunt, Dick Van Cleve, Les Kilpatrick, Walt Carey, Cos D'Andrea, Joe Corriss, Don McDade, Fritz Berg, and a host of others.

FENCING

The new sport of fencing has made great strides in Bengal town throughout the last two years. Under the guidance of Vincent Surdi, former South Side High star, once All-American foiler, the team participated in the New York matches and came through in great style.

MISS EDITH RUSSELL

To Miss Edith Russell we wish to extend not only our sincere appreciation for her fine work in the development of character and athletic ability, but we wish, in addition, to thank our instructor for her efforts to inject in us a greater sense of responsibility, cooperation, and leadership.

ARCHERY

Throughout the nation, sports enthusiasts are familiar with the name "Bloomfield High School Archery Team". What other high school can claim such distinction? Seven years in succession these archers have been crowned the National Interscholastic Champions. Under the competent guidance of Miss Edith Russell, this team practices indoors three times a week during the fall and winter; then in the spring it moves outdoors to attain perfection in long distance shooting. Last June the girls attended the Eastern Tournament, held in Storrs, Connecticut, and, as anticipated, received innumerable honors. Led by Captain Doris Forsberg and Manager Grace Ulrich, these girls very infrequently miss the gold or red of the target.

MRS. MYRA SEELY

Variety, fun and beneficial aid—for these things the senior girls are indebted to Mrs. Myra Seely. Under her direction, the gym classes assumed an individuality that provided the particular training best suited to each girl. We thank you, Mrs. Seely, for the pleasant and cheerful three years we have experienced under your guidance.

BASKETBALL

Upsets, unusually well-executed plays and lots of fun mingled to produce three good seasons for the girls participating in basketball. Although we mourn the loss of the championship to our junior class, we rejoice in our achievement of greater skill and the winning of new friends.

FENCING

Fencing, introduced to the girls at B. H. S. for the first time this year, is naturally still in an early growing stage. However, it is fast becoming one of the favorite spots on the program of extra-curricular activities.

GYM TEAMS

Celebrating its 33rd anniversary, the Gym Team, composed of fifty-two girls, has a proud past upon which to reflect. This team has always represented character, as well as ability, and this year, too, its members have striven to keep its record of perfection. Through various exercises each girl, clad in red and grey, has acquired skill in performing upon the rings, ropes, parallel bars, and in tumbling, the spectacular military drill and dancing. Never have individuality, personality, and leadership been neglected at the cost of team-work

LEADERS CLUB

The Leaders Club meets each Wednesday afternoon to discuss the following week's gym program in order to furnish variety according to the needs of the classes.

HOCKEY

In the fall of the year, as regularly as the football season begins, the Bloomfield High School hockey team rushes forward with the banging of sticks and shins. This year sixty girls combined efforts to put forth two teams of Red and Grey.

SWIMMING

Splashing about in their respective groups, either beginners, intermediate, advanced, diving, life saving or water ballet, 108 girls have traveled to Montclair Y.W.C.A. with swimming aspirations this year.

Pick out any day of the week, any week of the month and what goes on? . . . "Sorry that those other two pictures didn't come out. Would you mind standing for one more, sir?" Of course, the object of the discussion will be developed in the Camera Club's dark room . . . Various times during the year the Red Cross Club sponsored these worthy drives, the March of Dimes and the Red Cross . . . "Sniff, Sniff. Hm—that smells good!" If the Home Economics Club has its way, there'll be no foundation for those stories about the bride's first cake . . . "Who's banking today?" . . . "Guten Morgen, wie geht es Ihnen?" spouts the fellow in knee trousers. Remember that play when the auditorium was transferred into a German Inn? . . . "Quo usque tandem abutere, Calilina, patentia nostra." Remember seeing those modern Ciceros walking around the halls with their laural branches (of hedge leaves) and white togas? . . . The French Club drive for the people of starving Europe was the highlight of their year . . . "Noche de pax, noche de amor" was all we heard around Christmas time . . . "Do, re, mi, fa, so, la, ti, do." Seventh period—the most musical period of the day! . . . Take a pool, a roller rink, or what else have you, show it to the Hi-Y and there's sure to be a party of some kind soon after ('course, they say it's not so much what's done during meeting as after!) . . . Sounds like the ideal club (they do have dues though!) . . . Picture if you can a pie plate, a mass of ribbon, an inverted dress, and a female without makeup and you can vaguely imagine the Girl Reserve initiation . . . Needless to say, the Honor Society members weren't always buried in books. Don't forget their holiday parties . . . "Whee, look at me! No hands!" Ah, yes, the Junior Gym Team. What could bring back fonder memories . . . So it goes everyday!

AROUND TOWN

COINING

Soon the time will come when leaving
Brings sorrow to each heart
And we'll say good-bye to Bloomfield.
Let us promise, ere we part,
Though the years be long, whenever we may meet,
We'll join in praise
And thank our Alma Mater for our good old high school days.

Yes, the time has come for leaving. We have finished our high school years, and now is the time when we shall embark upon the greatest adventures yet. The coin is ready to leave, too;
it's ready to start on its journey and become a part of the world. It has had its final weighing and been found worthy of circulation. We, too, have had our final weighing in school. Shall we, too, be found worthy?

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

May I take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to all of those people who contributed to the production of this book.

To our three advisers: Miss Irene F. Brummerstedt, for her diligent work on the literary end of the book; Miss Dorothea J. Fischer, for her indispensable art, cartoons, and layouts; Mr. William A. Willever, for his efficient direction of the photography staff.

To Mr. Max Klein for handling the finances involved.

To Mr. Sydney Heller of Thomas Studios, who took senior pictures.

To Mr. Charles Titus and Mr. William Litvany of the Bloomfield Independent Press for the printing of the book.

To Mr. Franklin Snyder of the Scientific Engraving Company for engraving the cuts.

To all of those students who contributed their time, efforts and ideas to the production of this book.

I know that some of the jobs you had to do did not have any glory attached to them, only hard work.

Please accept my thanks for a job well done.

Thank you all once more!
